

From Farm to your Table!

By supporting local farms through careful selection of produce at grocery stores or by buying direct from the farm you are contributing to the conservation of fertile farmland and wildlife habitat within your community. In Delta there are a number of farms that sell their products directly from their farms. We have included some of the farms with more permanent retail structures on this map. You can recognize the farm by the deltafarmland.ca tour marker found at the farm. Come out and see what Delta farmers have to offer. It can't get any better than fresh from the farm!
